Attendance Policy

School attendance is subject to various education laws and this school Attendance Policy has been written to reflect the laws and guidance produced by the Department for Education and the Local Authority (Cornwall or Plymouth depending on where the child normally resides). You can find details of the relevant legislation and government guidance on p.92 of Working together to improve school attendance – DfE, August 2024.

Section 1

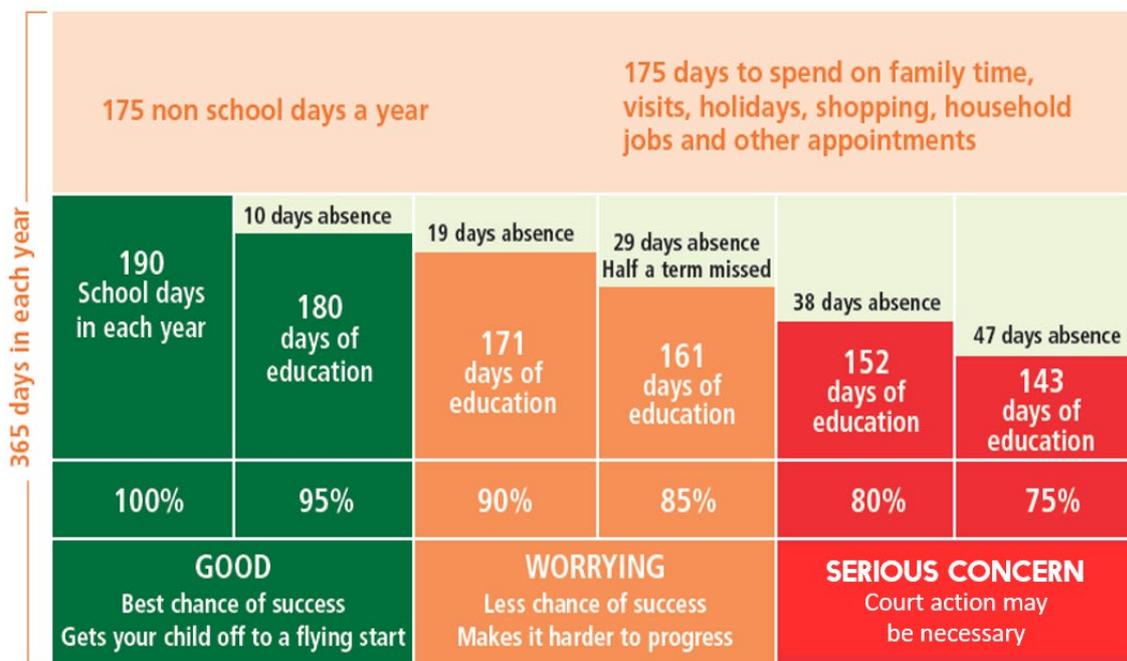

1.1 Rationale

We are committed to providing an education of the highest quality for all students and endeavour to provide an environment where all students feel valued and welcome through the embodiment of our Trust values.

The SMART Attendance Policy document 2025/26 describes what each school will do to support student attendance because good attendance matters.

Parent/carers and students play a part in making each school successful. Every child has a right to access the education to which they are entitled. Parents/carers and teachers share the responsibility for supporting and promoting excellent school attendance and punctuality for all. Each school within the trust will do all that can be reasonably expected to have every child in school every day. Every opportunity will be used to convey to students and their parents/carers the importance of regular and punctual attendance.

1.2 Good attendance is importance because...

- Student engagement and learning. Regular attendance is directly linked to student achievement. When students attend classes consistently, they actively participate in discussions, collaborate with peers and absorb essential content. Our approach to promoting good attendance encourages students to be present and engaged in their learning.
- Quality education. Promoting good attendance contributes to the overall quality of education provided in school. It ensures that teachers can plan effectively, deliver lessons, and assess student progress. Consistent attendance allows us to maintain high standards and provide a supportive learning environment.
- Accountability and responsibility. By adhering to attendance guidelines, students learn responsibility and punctuality. Traits that are essential for success not only in school but throughout life.
- Community and inclusion. Regular attendance fosters a sense of community. Students build connections with peers, teachers, and staff which contribute to a positive classroom atmosphere where everyone feels valued and included.
- Legal compliance and safeguarding. Our attendance procedures align with the legal requirements set by government. Rigorously pursuing these requirements ensures we fulfil our duty to safeguard students.

Section 2

2.1 Operating the policy

Promoting good attendance

The expectation across the Trust is that all students attend school every day that it is open to them. The foundation for good attendance is a strong partnership between the school, parent/carer and the child.

To help us all to focus on this, your child's school will:

- provide information on all matters related to attendance through its website and letters, as well as contact with home
- report to parents/carers on how their child is performing in school, what their attendance rate is (which may include details of how this compares to their peers) and how it relates to their attainment
- set targets for the school and individuals for attendance, where appropriate
- run events in which parents, students and staff can work together on raising attendance levels where appropriate
- have clear trigger points that may escalate to the next stage as detailed below

In order to support students and create a culture where excellent school attendance is the norm, schools need to ensure that they are aware of and reacting appropriately to all levels of attendance and absence. To do this schools should offer praise and rewards for sustained or improved attendance and support including referrals to safeguarding, SEN teams and other relevant outside agencies for those pupils with high levels of absence.

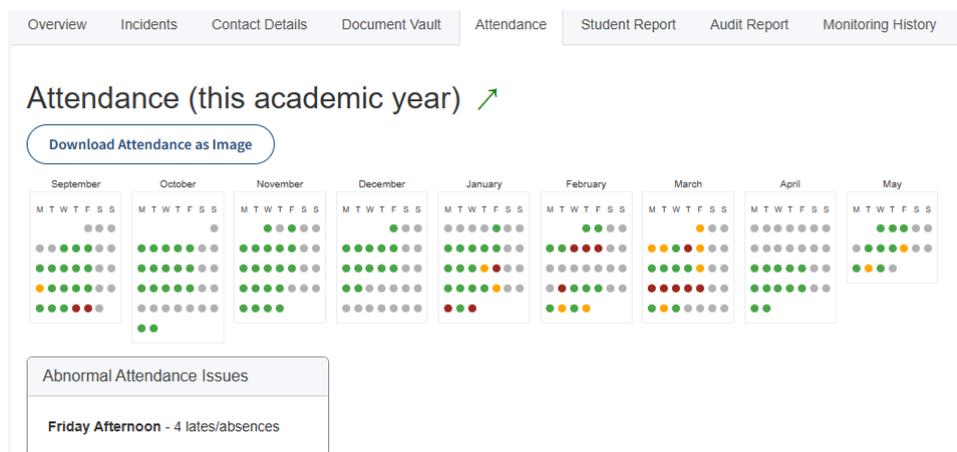

Stage 1 – For children whose attendance sits within VYED Absence Banding 1 (is less than 100% but more than 95%)

During this stage, schools are free to employ a wide range of strategies tailored to the needs of the child. The goal of any strategy employed is to support the student to be in school every day. Every school will ensure parents are kept well informed and will check that absences are not an indicator of any possible emerging patterns or revealing a potential driver of poor attendance.

Examples of how this may be achieved include:

- Increased communication with home. The school may send home weekly letters, updates, or emails to inform parents of their child's current attendance level.
- Day one contact. The school may use text messages to inform parents of absence, requesting parents/carers to contact the school.
- Live reporting. The school may use apps (such as ClassCharts) to enable live reporting of attendance data.
- Broken weeks, analysis of attendance data. If a student has two broken weeks of attendance (triggered if a child misses either a morning or afternoon session of attendance in each week) in four calendar weeks – the teacher/tutor may try support initially by speaking with the student about this, emphasising the schools desire to see them in school every day and drawing attention to what they are missing out on by not being in school. The attendance tab of a student's CPOMS report will show clearly if there are any patterns of possible concern emerging:

which may inform appropriate actions such as phone calls home, an attendance/punctuality report or conversation about potential barriers to good attendance.

For early signs of absence patterns emerging, the teacher/tutor may refer to the Head of Key Stage/Head of Year/pastoral team for initiation of formal stage. It is the school's decision to proceed onto the formal stage and this can happen at any time, even if the informal stage hasn't commenced.

Formal Stages

- Stage 2 – Student percentage falls within VYED Absence Banding 2 (below 95%) - concern letter sent to parents/carers. The school (depending on the child's historical pattern of absence) may request medical evidence before any future absences can be authorised. At this stage specific consideration of any SEND or other needs should be informing the schools decision regarding future actions.
- Stage 3 – Student percentage falls within VYED Absence Banding 3 (below 90%) – the student become a 'persistent absentee'. A further concern letter sent to parents/carers. Parent/carers may be invited to an Attendance Support Meeting (ASM) to discuss their child's attendance. As part of this meeting, an Attendance Contract may be drawn up to highlight current concerns/barriers and set targets for improvements (with an agreed timescale to review attendance)

Stage 3 SOP:

Why do we do this?

1. To identify pupils/cohorts whose attendance continues to be a concern and where next steps (stage 3) are required to improve attendance (persistent absentees).

2. To actively engage with parents/pupils by meeting (Attendance Support Meeting) to discuss barriers to attendance and agreeing actions/targets to improve attendance.

3. To review and monitor the attendance of pupils after the initial Attendance Support Meeting. To agree further strategies or actions as appropriate to improve attendance.

4. To refer individual cases to the EWO Service if no recognised improvement in attendance is observed.

Stage 4 SOP:

Why do we do this?

1. To improve whole school attendance by promoting and encouraging excellent attendance through liaison with pupils, parents, staff and the LA EWS Team.
2. To liaise with and support school Attendance Teams with advice, strategies and suggested actions as appropriate to improve the attendance of all pupils (through stages 1 -3).
3. To manage referred “persistent absentee” cases through agreed processes including appropriate strategies to engage with pupils and parents. To liaise with relevant external support and agencies in managing cases and to process relevant cases through to EPM, fixed penalty or prosecution in conjunction with the LA EWS team.

- Warning of prosecution notice – If there is no improvement following the initial involvement of the EWO a warning of prosecution letter will be issued by the EWO. This will notify the parent/carer of a potential Educational Planning Meeting (EPM) meeting which is the point at which a decision around prosecution is discussed.

If strategies and engagement has NOT led to an improvement in attendance towards agreed target, then issue First Warning towards prosecution letter. - Stage 5 – All efforts made have failed to result in improved attendance after an agreed period. The parent/carer, unless the absence is authorised/unavoidable, will likely face prosecution
- Final Warning of Prosecution – If the above stages do not have the required impact of improving a child's attendance rates in school, it may be necessary to proceed with legal action. We hope to avoid this, and this is of course possible with early identification and support as outlined previously.

2.2 Roles and responsibilities

Attendance at school is everyone's responsibility. The descriptions below take into account the latest guidance from Summary table of responsibilities for school attendance \(applies from 19 August 2024\)

The Local Governing Board (LGC)

The LGC is responsible for:

- Setting high expectations of all school leaders, staff, pupils and parents
- Making sure school leaders fulfil expectations and statutory duties, including:
 - Making sure the school records attendance accurately in the register, and shares the required information with the DfE and local authority
 - Making sure the school works effectively with local partners to help remove barriers to attendance, and keeps them informed regarding specific pupils, where appropriate
- Recognising and promoting the importance of school attendance across the school's policies and ethos
- Making sure the school's attendance management processes are delivered effectively, and that consistent support is provided for pupils who need it most by prioritising staff and resources
- Making sure the school has high aspirations for all pupils, but adapts processes and support to pupils' individual needs
- Regularly reviewing and challenging attendance data and helping school leaders focus improvement efforts on individual pupils or cohorts who need it most
- Working with school leaders to set goals or areas of focus for attendance and providing support and challenge
- Monitoring attendance figures for the whole school and repeatedly evaluating the effectiveness of the school's processes and improvement efforts to make sure they are meeting pupils needs
- Where the school is struggling with attendance, working with school leaders to develop a comprehensive action plan to improve attendance
- Making sure all staff receive adequate training on attendance as part of the regular continued professional development offer, so that staff understand:
 - The importance of good attendance
 - That absence is almost always a symptom of wider issues
 - The school's legal requirements for keeping registers
 - The school's strategies and procedures for tracking, following up on and improving attendance, including working with partners and keeping them informed regarding specific pupils, where appropriate
- Making sure dedicated training is provided to staff with a specific attendance function in their role, including in interpreting and analysing attendance data

- Sharing effective practice on attendance management and improvement across schools
- Holding the headteacher to account for the implementation of this policy

The Headteacher

The Headteacher is responsible for:

- The implementation of this policy at the school
- Monitoring school-level absence data and reporting it to governors
- Supporting staff with monitoring the attendance of individual pupils
- Monitoring the impact of any implemented attendance strategies
- Issuing fixed-penalty notices, where necessary, and/or authorising the school's Attendance Lead to be able to do so
- Working with the parents of pupils with special educational needs and/or disabilities (SEND) to develop specific support approaches for attendance for pupils with SEND, including where school transport is regularly being missed, and where pupils with SEND face in-school barriers
- Communicating with the local authority when a pupil with an education, health and care (EHC) plan has falling attendance, or where there are barriers to attendance that relate to the pupil's needs
- Communicating the school's high expectations for attendance and punctuality regularly to pupils and parents through all available channels

Responsibilities of each school's Attendance Lead

In each school, a Senior Leader oversees, directs and co-ordinates the school's work in promoting regular and improved attendance by promoting a collective sense of wellbeing and belonging in their school. They will ensure attendance procedures are consistently applied and that attendance is recorded accurately and analysed regularly.

Responsibilities of tutors and staff

Tutors/class teachers will:

- ensure that all students are registered accurately.
- promote good attendance with students at all appropriate opportunities in line with these attendance procedures
- liaise with the Attendance Lead on matters of attendance and punctuality if a student's absence causes concern
- communicate any concerns or underlying problems that may account for a child's absence to the appropriate Leader (whether Head of Year (Secondary) or Head of Key Stage or Headteacher (Primary)).
- support pupils with absence to engage with their learning once they are back in school through discussions and supportive interventions offered.
- log interventions, contact with parents, discussions with students, letters sent etc

Responsibilities of students

- attend every day unless they are ill or have an authorised absence
- arrive in school on time ready for the morning
- arrive at all lessons and learning time punctually
- take responsibility for registering at the reception desk if they are late or are leaving the school site during school hours (with parental consent)

Responsibilities of parents/carers

Ensuring a child's regular attendance at school is a parent/carer's legal responsibility (Section 444 of the 1996 Education Act) and permitting absence from school that is not authorised by the school creates an offence in law.

Parents must:

- inform the school on the first day of absence (and subsequent days if required)
- discuss with the school (usually teacher/tutor) any planned absences well in advance and apply for these on an Absence Request Form (available from the school)
- support the school in aiming for children to be in school every day that the school is open to them
- make sure that any absence is clearly accounted for by telephone or text on the first and every subsequent day of absence, or by letter if a phone is unavailable
- avoid taking their child out of school for non-urgent medical or dental appointments (these may not be authorised if it is for non-urgent appointments)
- only request leave of absence if it is for an exceptional circumstance (absences are rarely authorised), such as if a parent/carer who is serving in the Military has leave; a housing crisis which requires immediate absence; attendance at a funeral; respite care of a Looked After Child (LAC). The school may ask to see evidence to support the decision to authorise an absence in exceptional circumstances

3.1 Recording attendance

Legally the register must be marked twice daily (am and pm sessions). This is once at the start of the school day and again for the afternoon session.

3.2 Lateness/punctuality

It is important to be on time at the start of the morning and afternoon school sessions (the am and pm register) and to lessons. The start of school/lessons is used to give out instructions, retrieve prior knowledge or organise work. If a student is late, they can miss valuable learning time as well as causing disruption to the lesson for others.

- all students are expected to be in school on time. Please see p.21 or your school's website for the specific timings for your child's school
- all lateness is recorded daily. This information will be required by the courts, should a prosecution for non-attendance or lateness be necessary
- arrival more than 30 minutes after the close of registration will be marked as unauthorised absence and coded U in line with the Department of Education guidance. This mark shows them to be on site but is legally recorded as an unauthorised absence
- if a student is late due to a medical appointment, they will receive an authorised absence, coded M. Please be advised that, where possible, medical appointments should be made outside of school hours or during school holidays

Additional codes used nationally can be found in Section 5.

Students who are consistently late are disrupting not only their own education but also that of the other students. Ongoing and repeated lateness is considered as unauthorised absence and could be subject to legal action (see Section 6 for further detail).

3.3 What to do if my child is absent?

First day of absence

A student not attending school is considered a safeguarding matter. Therefore, information about the cause of any absence is always required.

If a student is absent the parent/carer must:

- contact the school as soon as possible on the first day of absence
- provide any appropriate medical evidence if a longer-term absence from school is likely, with clear dates of return (e.g. post-operative care)

Second day of absence

Parent/carers are required to contact school EVERY DAY of a child's absence. The school will continue to try and contact the child's parent/carer on this day.

Third day of absence

Please note: If a child is not seen and contact has not been established with any of the named parents/carers, on the third day of absence, the school may have to start safeguarding procedures (although the school can decide to commence this earlier if they deem it necessary). The school will make all reasonable enquiries to establish contact with parents/carers and the student, including making enquiries to known friends and wider family. The school reserves the right to call the Police for a welfare check to be carried out.

Five days of absence

The school has a legal duty to report the absence of any student who is absent without an explanation for 10 consecutive sessions. If a student is not seen and contact has not been established with the named parent/carer then the local authority may be notified that the child is missing in education (CME). Children's Services (MARU/MASH) staff or Police may visit the last known address and alert key services to locate the child.

There will be regular checks on telephone numbers throughout the year. It is the parents/carers responsibility to inform the school of any changes to contact numbers and addresses.

Continued or ongoing absence

If a student misses 10% or more schooling across the school year, for whatever reason, they are defined as a persistent absentee. Absence for whatever reason disadvantages a student by creating gaps in their learning. Research shows these gaps affect attainment when attendance falls below 95%. As such, the school monitor all absence thoroughly and all attendance data may be shared with the local authority and the Department for Education.

Section 4

4.1 Request for leave of absence

Amendments to school attendance regulations have been updated and will apply from summer 2024: Working together to improve school attendance \(applies from 19 August 2024\) (publishing.service.gov.uk)

These developments have been designed to support schools in improving the attendance of children.

The Education (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations state that Headteachers may not grant any leave of absence during term time unless there are exceptional circumstances. It is important to note that Headteachers can determine the length of the authorised absence, as well as whether absence is authorised at all. The fundamental principles for defining exceptional are rare, significant, or unavoidable, which means the event could not reasonably be scheduled at another time.

There is, however, no legal entitlement for time off in school term time to go on holiday and in the majority of cases holiday will not be authorised. Parents/carers wishing to apply for leave of absence need to fill in an application form (available from the child's school) in advance and before making any travel arrangements. The school reserves the right to only authorise one session for medical appointments during school hours unless the appointment can be proven to be an exceptional circumstance.

If term-time leave is taken without prior permission from the school, the absence will be unauthorised and will likely result in a fixed-penalty fine or other legal action in accordance with the code (see Section 6 for detail).

Taking holidays in term time will affect a child's schooling as much as any other absence and the school expects parents/carers to help the school by not taking children out during school time.

4.2 Part time timetables

In very exceptional circumstances, where it is in a pupil's best interests, there may be a need for a school to provide a pupil of compulsory school age with less than full-time education through a temporary part-time timetable to meet their individual needs. For example, where a medical condition prevents a pupil from attending school or another setting full-time and a part-time timetable is used to help the pupil access as much education as possible. A part-time timetable should not be used to manage a pupil's behaviour.

A part time timetable must only be in place for the shortest time possible and be reviewed regularly.

Section 5

5.1 Understanding absence codes

Authorised absence: is when the school has accepted the explanation offered as satisfactory justification for the absence or given approval in advance for such an absence. If no explanation is received, absences cannot be authorised

Unauthorised absence: is when the school has not received a reason for absence or has not approved a child's leave absence from school after a parent's request. This includes (but is not limited to):

- parents giving their children permission to be off school unnecessarily
- to go shopping
- their own or family birthdays
- to look after siblings
- truancy before or during the school day
- absences which have not been explained

A school can, if needed, change an authorised absence to an unauthorised absence and vice versa if new information is presented. Any changes will be communicated to parents/carers. An example of this would be where a parent states a child is unwell but on return to school there is evidence they have been on holiday.

The following national codes will be used to record attendance information.

6.1 DfE guidance

The Department for Education produce guidance that summarises the legal powers and duties that govern school attendance and explains how they apply to local authorities, Headteachers, school staff, governing bodies, pupils and parents. These requirements are contained in:

Section 7

7.1 Various situations not covered above and FAQs from parents/carers

I'm considering home schooling my child, what should I do?

We truly believe that the vast majority of children should be in school. Whilst it is the parent/carer's legal right to choose Elective Home Education, we will almost always dissuade against this move and would encourage parents/carers to discuss any potential concerns, or reasons why they may be considering EHE, with the child's teacher/tutor, a member of the Safeguarding Team, or someone from the Attendance Team.

My child is leaving the school, what do I need to do?

If your child is leaving our school (other than when leaving at the end of Year 6, Year 11 or Year 13, parents are asked to:

- 1- Give the school comprehensive information about their plans, including any date of a move and your new address and telephone numbers, your child's new school and the start date when known. This should be submitted to our school in writing otherwise we are not allowed to remove a child from roll
- 2- If students leave and we do not have the above information, then your child may be considered to be a child missing education (CME). This requires schools and local authorities to then carry out investigations to try and locate your child, which includes liaising with Children's Services (MARU/MASH), the Police and other agencies. By giving us the above information, these investigations can be avoided

We are a Gypsy, Roma, Traveller and/or Showman family and wish to travel

Absence of a child from a Traveller family that has left the area may be authorised if the absence is for work purposes only and it is believed that the family intends to return. To ensure the continuity of learning for Traveller children, dual registration is allowed. That means that a school cannot remove a Traveller child from the school roll while they are travelling. When the Traveller is away, the home school holds the place open and records the absence as authorised through the T code. If you intend not to return to your child's school, please communicate this to the school as soon as possible.

Study leave (Year 11 and 13)

As a research led organisation, we are always keen to learn from research into methods that give children the best possible chance of success in their examinations. Currently the very best available research states that pupils/students' needs are best met if they attend school every day in the period leading up to examinations. Hence, study leave is not currently granted during this period, and students will be expected to attend school in the usual way. Schools, on occasion, may attempt new combinations of home and school learning including 'period 5/6' and holiday sessions. In such cases, parents will be kept fully informed of any changes to usual expectations.

Teenage pregnancy (Secondary)

Support will be directed to keeping a student in school and, wherever possible, their return to full-time education as soon as possible after the birth. A student who becomes pregnant should be allowed no more than 18 weeks' authorised absence to cover the time immediately before and after the birth of the child. After that time, any absence may be treated as unauthorised. Their case will usually be referred to CHES (Community and Hospital Education Service) who will likely provide education if the child isn't able to attend school immediately before or after the birth.

My child doesn't attend the school due to diagnosed health conditions (physical and/or mental)

Schools will support children and families to re-engage in learning wherever possible. Where attending school site goes against medical advice (which should be provided in writing to the school), the school will work with external partners (such as Community and Hospital Education Service (CHES)) to initiate education at home or at another suitable venue. This will be reviewed every 6 weeks and the school should continue to carry out regular safeguarding checks on the child, as well as suitability checks on the provider in line with the guidance as stated with Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE).
